Forum Work

REQUIREMENTS:

- You must post
  - at least four times each week (four different posts)
  - on at least two different days of that week
  - with a minimum total of 400 words each week.
- With the exception of the first two weeks of class, the week begins on Sunday and ends at 11:59pm on Saturday.
  - Week 1 begins on Monday (January 14).
  - Week 2 begins on Tuesday (January 22).
- You must post in the discussion threads for the current week only.
  - Any posts made in threads from previous weeks will not count.
  - You are not required to post in all the threads available for that week. (You may focus all of your posts upon one thread, if you wish.)
- You are strongly encouraged to respond to other posts (hit QUOTE, rather than REPLY, for greater clarity).

GRADING RUBRIC FOR FORUM WORK is located in the Course Syllabus.
Forum entries will be graded holistically for the nature of their claims, warrants and support (depth of thought, logic, development, coherence, and proof in the form of either quality reasoning, cited quality reasoning, or cited facts). Chatty comments are permitted but do not count as forum work. Comments such as "I agree" or that wander off-topic are "chatty" and, while they are permitted, they will not count as relevant toward your forum work grade. Each week's work is evaluated and assigned a grade.

01/21/19: NO CLASS REQUIREMENTS (Martin Luther King, Jr. Day)

RULES:

- No personal attacks!
- No attachments.
- Quoting passages of works is acceptable, as long as you properly cite the work. These quotes are not applicable toward your word count for the week.
- You are encouraged to respond to other posts.
- No swimming after dark!
